(Payroll)

1.

The diagram illustrates the flow of cash and payroll between a company and its employees. It consists of several rows of boxes representing accounts:

- Company Cash: A row of 20 boxes. The first 18 boxes are shaded gray, and the last 2 boxes are white.
- Company Payroll: A row of 10 white boxes.
- Employees Cash: A row of 20 white boxes.
- Employees Payroll: A row of 10 white boxes.

Arrows indicate the flow of funds:

- A blue arrow points from the 19th box of the Company Cash row to the 1st box of the Employees Cash row.
- A blue arrow points from the 20th box of the Company Cash row to the 1st box of the Employees Cash row.
- A blue arrow points from the 1st box of the Employees Payroll row to the 19th box of the Company Payroll row.
- A blue arrow points from the 2nd box of the Employees Payroll row to the 20th box of the Company Payroll row.

Labels and text:

- Company is written above the first row.
- Employees is written above the third row.
- Cash is written to the right of the first row.
- (Payroll) is written to the left of the second row.
- Payroll is written to the right of the second row.
- Cash is written to the right of the third row.
- Payroll is written to the right of the fourth row.

2.
